BISHOPS SAY HEALTH CARE REFORM SHOULD INCLUDE ALL IMMIGRANTS, LEGAL OR NOT

Though Bishop William F. Murphy of Rockville centre, N.Y., concedes there's no political will in Washington to include illegal immigrants in health care reform, he believes it is the country's moral obligation to ensure that everyone in the nation receives proper medical care. This includes those who enter the country illegally.

Bishop Murphy chairs the U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishop's Committee on Domestic Justice and Human development and says "I agree that there is a special problem with those who have entered here without the permission of the United States and that has to be looked at. But that's a problem unto itself."

Many U.S. Catholic Bishops who have spoken publicly about health care reform have expressed the opinion that one of the richest countries in the world should find a way to guarantee that everyone within its borders has access to medical care, from conception to natural death.

Bishop Jaime Soto of Sacramento, Calif., said the new legislation has to include at a minimum some kind of safety net for the undocumented, particularly if the goal of a nationwide health care reform plan is to improve the overall health of society. "We realize it's a very contentious issue" Bishop Soto said "But there has to be some kind of safety net". If undocumented immigrants cannot participate in health insurance, he added, "they will end up in emergency rooms"

Bishop Murphy said Catholic hospitals will not turn illegal immigrants away if they don't have medical insurance, but he believes it will be more cost-effective if the undocumented are given an opportunity to buy into an affordable health insurance plan.

On "the issue of health care if it leaves out immigrants, it is doing what some people want it to do in terms of the unborn" he said.

"How can we say that we're a country of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness for all who come to our shores if we say "except the unborn". Or if we say "except the handicapped". Or if we say "except the new person", Bishop Murphy said. Then we have not lived up to the high ideal of our country. And we have introduced a sense of injustice into a plan that should be just for all"

On Sept. 15, 15 Bishops of three denominations led a brief service outside the Capitol asking for an end to hate, particularly hatred towards immigrants. Among the group was former Auxiliary Bishop of San Francisco John C. Wester, now Bishop of Salt Lake City and chairman of the migration committee of the U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops. At the prayer service Bishop Wester said "the current environment dehumanizes our fellow human beings and diminishes us as a nation"

BABY CURLS TOES, GETS FINGERPRINTS

Your spiritually adopted baby is beginning the third month in her mother's womb. She/He sleeps, awakens, turns her head, curls her toes and opens her mouth. She/he breathes amniotic fluid but obtains oxygen through the umbilical cord. By the end of this third month, all body systems will be functioning and she will even have her own fingerprints. Please pray that her/his mother will keep choosing life for her unique unborn baby. For a close-up view of the unborn baby, see the new poster in the Hall of Saints.
